Hallowe'en.

I wonder how many of us really have thought what Halloween means. Hallow-e'en is the name popularly given to the eve of All Hallows, or the festival of All Saints' day, which is the first of November, so Halloween comes on the evening of October, the thirty-first.

In many countries, it is customary to try all kinds of queer antics. In England, they have many of the customs we do here. They do such things as cracking nuts, ducking for apples in a tub of water, biting apples, which are hanging by a string from the doorway, and many other harmless revelries.

In Scotland, they do all these things, yet the Hallowe'en ceremonies, if they might be called such, partake of a more superstitious character. The poor people believe that a witch has the power to charm them and help them discover who shall be their partners for life.

Some of the ways they do this is to light a candle, go into a dark room, peer into a mirror over the left shoulder and just as the clock is striking twelve, their future partner will be looking into their eyes.

These are only a few of the things that are done, I will leave you to guess what others can be done.

Entertainment at Forty-two.

The home of Mrs. Talitha Grigsby was beautiful in its decorations of potted plants, asparagus ferns autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and pumpkins when she entertained in her most hospitable way at forty-two, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Grigsby, gowned in black, received her guests in the hall in her sweet and simple manner.

Mrs. Tipton Rawlins, Mrs. Lee Bush, Mrs. Byrd Hodgkin, Mrs. John Hardwick and Miss Elizabeth Grigsby assisted Mrs. Grigsby in entertaining the guests.

There were sixteen tables and the markers, tallies and napkins were painted with witches, pumpkins, cats, owls and all kinds of grotesque things, the original idea of Miss Grigsby.

The progressions were marked by Misses Ann Duerson, Elizabeth Hodgkin, Gertrude Grigsby and Rachel Ware Bush, in their sweet and attractive ways, while little Miss Frances Rawlins passed the tallies.

After the games were finished, an elegant meat course was served. Only those who have tasted of Mrs. Grigsby's hospitality can fully appreciate what it means. She always entertains in that sweet, simple way, so characteristic of the olden times and which is best after all.

Charming Dinner.

Mrs. George B. Nelson, jr., charmingly entertained the following guests at dinner Saturday, at her pretty home, on Dudley street: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Nelson, and the daughter, Anna, of Washington, D. C., Miss Alethea Shiddell, Mrs. Ida M. Coates and Mrs. William Mayfield, of Lexington, Mrs. Will Nelson and Mrs. R. R. Perry, of this city, and Mrs. E. H. Childs, of Chicago.

Coon Hunt.

The coon hunt given by Dr. George S. Brooks Friday night was a howling success. The party left town by the Lexington pike and went to Goff's wood, on through Mr. Ernest Bean's, to the Paris pike and returned home by the same way. Lunch was served at eleven o'clock.

They treed a coon and caught him, and found it was a 'possum, so there will be a stag supper Saturday night, with "possum and 'taters."

Those who enjoyed the hunt were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben D. Goff, Misses Florrie Smith, Margaret McKinley, Ruth Tucker, Nancy Stevenson, Sallie McDonald; Messrs. Mark and Clay McClure, Joe Nunnally, Will Lane, Bronston McCord, Gay Prewitt, Tom and John Weathers, Walter Nunnally and Harold Wentworth.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The Daughters of the American Revolution had a most interesting meeting Friday afternoon with Miss Annie Croxton. They had a business meeting in connection with the other work. We feel proud that the Hart Chapter is doing such good work. They have only been organized since April, but rank second in number to all the Chapters.

The State Regent has offered a prize for the Chapter which will obtain the largest number of new members in the next year, and our Chapter is working hard for the prize. The Hart Chapter has offered a gold medal to the pupil who obtains the highest average in history in the Public schools, this year.

The women of Lexington Chapters have published a souvenir book, which is made from two articles sent in from each Chapter. It is a beautiful souvenir, and may be obtained from any news dealer.

Surprise Party.

Quite a number of friends and old neighbors gave Mrs. J. H. Mac Neill a surprise party on last Tuesday evening, her birthday. The house was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and the table was also decorated in chrysanthemums. They served brick cream and cakes, malaga grapes and mints.

It was greatly enjoyed by all and a complete surprise to Mrs. Mac Neill. Among others present were Mr. and Mrs. Bobb. Prewitt, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Miss Lucy Stewart, Mrs. W. S. Campbell, of Louisville, Mrs. Lee Baldwin, Mrs. Etta Smith, Mrs. Will Massie, Mrs. J. Smith Hays, Mrs. W. P. Azbill and Mrs. T. C. Hardesty.

OPERA HOUSE.

In selecting "The Power of Love" for Miss Marian West's starring vehicle, Manager Douglas has, as the saying is, hit the nail right.

Miss West, in the part of an uncouth country girl, married to a rich society favorite, and having to suffer sneers of a jealous rival, proves herself equal to the task assigned to her and from the very first instant wins the sympathy of her audience. Miss West, is a great favorite with the public, and by her appearance here, will no doubt enlarge the long list of admirers of her act.

D. A. R. CONCERT

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Mrs. Lula Willis.

The death of Mrs. Lula Willis at Lexington, was noted yesterday. She was the wife of Dr. R. L. Willis, Superintendent of the Eastern Kentucky Asylum. Mrs. Willis was born in this county.

Her brother, Mr. J. E. Gaitskill, lives here, also two sisters, Mrs. H. A. Rogers and Mrs. J. W. Bargin. The other brothers are S. H. Gaitskill, of Florida, S. W. Gaitskill, of Lexington, and Strother Gaitskill, of California. The funeral took place in Lexington at three o'clock this afternoon.

The pall bearers were: Active—Webb Gaitskill, Mt. Sterling, J. W. Hughes, Owensville, William Arnold, Richmond, Harvey Rogers, Wade's Mill, J. W. Burgin and Samuel W. Willis, Winchester, N. P. Van Meter and W. F. Price, Lexington.

Honorary—Prof. James G. White, Mr. Alexander Hall, Dr. David Barrow, Dr. F. H. Clark, Ernest Cassidy, Dr. B. L. Coleman, Messrs. Beverly R. Jonett and R. P. Taylor, Winchester.

Mr. J. W. Watts.

The funeral of Mr. J. W. Watts took place from his home on West Broadway Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Mac Neill, assisted by Elder J. W. Harding. The interment was in the Winchester Cemetery. The pall bearers were: James Mullins, J. T. Luman, W. M. Caskey, J. A. Bush, Wm. W. Harding and George W. McKinney.

Mr. Watts leaves surviving him, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. McEwan of the county and three brothers, John W., H. R. and T. W., of Millersburg, and three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Black, Mrs. Wilson Lawrence and Mrs. H. F. Bradley of this city and county.

"Miss Katherine Elkins yesterday took out a fire insurance policy covering a special wardrobe, which is believed to be her trousseau. The amount of the policy is not made known, but it covers a wardrobe and jewels and extends for only a month. It was the intention of Senator and Mrs. Elkins to return to Washington the latter part of next week, but on account of a cablegram today Mr. Elkins decided to remain here for some time longer."
